Letter from the President

I smile every time someone says, "There's so much going on at TBZ." Did you know that through our wide range of programming – from choir and band rehearsal to Torah study, and from Mazel Tots, Aleph Champ, and Young Family Shabbats to adult education, Lunch & Learn, and Brotherhood/Sisterhood events – we touched over 4,000 people in the months of October, November, and December? And whether at 805 Delaware or at Broder, we are seeing large crowds at services, Stained Glass concerts, and celebrations like Hanukkah.

Speaking of the Hanukkah celebration, what an event it was! With over 180 people in attendance, Sisterhood did an amazing job in managing the food and decorations while Cantor Susie had the band and choir rocking. My thanks to Sisterhood and to all those involved in planning and executing the event.

When it comes to events like these – and there are more with Tu BiShvat this month, Purim in March, Passover in April, and our Spring Gala in May – there is a saying "many hands make light work.". From coordinating security, creating a registration site, setting up the room, and cleaning up, it "takes a village" to make things happen. It also takes partnership – with lay leaders and staff – and great communication. In my 30 months as TBZ president, I have seen first-hand how hard our staff, maintenance team, clergy, and volunteers work to put on these programs and community-wide events.

So, as you look at www.tbz.org/calendar or read through this Bulletin, I encourage you to mark down at least one event (or service or program) coming up and join us. We would love to have even more people engaged as we continue our programming in 2025.

Finally, I'll challenge you to not only attend something in the next few months, but to reach out and ask how you can get involved. We are always looking for volunteers. It's a great way to help and you'll enjoy meeting new people. Please reach out to me at president@tbz.org if you would like to learn more.

Letter from the Rabbi

Comfort Amid Disaster

On September 26, 2024, Hurricane Helene made landfall in the panhandle region of Florida as a category 4 storm, quickly moved inland and stalled. Devastating floods, over 1,000 landslides, hundreds of water main breaks and power outages followed. Thousands were stranded.

Even worse, a different kind of storm soon followed on social media. Antisemites began directly tying the creation of Hurricane Helene to Jews (“Jews control the weather!”), alleging lack of action by FEMA. While Jews controlling the weather is an old trope, this was the first time antisemitic allegations were raised in a modern disaster relief context.

These narratives could not be further from the truth. Jews are deeply committed to saving life and not standing idle as our neighbors suffer. Israeli organizations such as IsraAID and Magen David Adom have provided disaster relief not only in Israel but around the world in countries such as Syria, Haiti, as well as for California wildfires. And, with regard to Hurricane Helene, an organization called NECHAMA–Jewish Response to Disaster, was among the first on the ground providing relief.

On Wednesday, February 12, we will host Stephan Kline, Chief Executive Officer of NECHAMA at our Tu BiShvat festival observance. He will describe his organization’s incredible work alleviating the suffering of those affected by Hurricane Helene. With a volunteer base that is 70% Jewish and taking its name from the Hebrew word meaning “comfort,” NECHAMA has also helped with tornado recovery in Oklahoma, flood relief in Iowa, and hurricanes in Florida and Louisiana. Simply put, they provide relief while combating antisemitism by demonstrating that Jews care.

As we witness extreme weather, the importance of God’s commandment that we be guardians of the earth is clear. We must preserve our planet as much as we can from the devastation of climate change. For example, this past year, the Religious Action Center for Reform Judaism of New York State successfully lobbied the New York State legislature to pass the All Electric Buildings Act and the Superfund Act.

On Tu BiShvat, we celebrate and seek a deeper understanding of our connection to our planet. Hearing from NECHAMA offers yet another lens into the work that is possible. Let us also consider how we might further embrace this responsibility so that our communities and our planet can be secure for generations to come.

Rabbi Brent Gutmann

Music Notes

Do you ever wonder why I sometimes chant fast passages of Hebrew, often at the beginnings or ends or some of our congregational melodies? This chanting is an old, oral tradition called nusach. It is comparable to what we call our "Oral Torah", which was said to have been spoken to Moses on Mt. Sinai, and exists within publications such as the Talmud and Mishnah. Contrary to popular belief, nusach, or this "chanting" of the Hebrew prayers, is, according to scholars, the musical side of our rabbinic tradition. When the Mishnah was codified by scholar Yehudah HaNasi, and during the time of Rashi, there were Jewish communities in the Rhinelands creating such strong musical rituals (which included Torah Trope) that the Rabbis of that time felt the need to codify it within the Mishnah, right alongside works such Pirkei Avot. When Reform Judaism was first practiced, it sought to do away with tradition, Halachah (Jewish Law), the wearing of Tallit and kippot, Hakafot (the Torah parade), and did not often acknowledge the Oral Tradition. Within the last 30 years, Reform Judaism has chosen to bring back more Hebrew, don our tallitot and Kippot, practice keeping Shabbat (in our own meaningful ways), and we have also brought back a few more traditional elements of our liturgy, nusach and the chanting of our prayers being one of them.

175th Anniversary Gala

Temple Beth Zion has a storied history, from its first meeting at the home of Hirsch Sinzheimer on Oak Street in 1850, to the Methodist Episcopal Church on Niagara Street in 1864, to 599 Delaware Avenue in the mid-1880's (destroyed by fire in 1961) to our "new" location in at 805 Delaware in 1967 (the "jewel of Delaware Avenue"). From its inception, wherever Temple Beth Zion hung its shingle, it has continued to serve as the spiritual and cultural home to its congregation.

On May 17, 2025, we will celebrate the 175th Anniversary of our beloved Synagogue with a special Gala. We hope that you will join us for this event that will honor the past, present and future of Temple Beth Zion.

Invitations will be forthcoming but, in the meantime, if you are interested learning how you can show your support for Temple Beth Zion by becoming a Gala donor, table sponsor, or event sponsor, we encourage you to reach out to one of us.

You are a vital part of what makes our congregation special and we look forward to celebrating with you.

See You in the Sunshine State!

Rabbi Brent and Mrs. Jill Gutmann will be heading to Florida in March to visit with TBZ members. A west coast Sarasota area get-together dinner will be held on Tuesday, March 4. Rabbi Gutmann will host a dinner on the east coast Boca Raton area on Tuesday, March 18. These are wonderful opportunities to mingle with others from your Buffalo community and to get an update on all that is happening "back home" in WNY and at TBZ.

If you winter or live in Florida, or know of a current member of TBZ who does, please contact Julie Feldman at (716) 836-6565 or julie@tbz.org so we can be sure to include everyone who wishes to take part.

Mah Koreh B'CRS (What's Happening at CRS)

February is a short month at CRS. Since February is Jewish Disability month, the students in grades 6 and 7, along with the Madrichim will participate in a program on Autism spectrum presented by Mrs. Ollendorf in collaboration with JFS. February will also include TBT's Men's Club leading our students in learning about the Mitzvah of putting on T'fillin as part of the World Wide Wrap.

Our winter electives are enriching our students as they learn about G-d in OMG - an exploration of the concept of G-d taught by Rabbi Rich, Jewish communities around the world taught by CRS staff, Antisemitism and Antizionism taught by Rabbi Gutmann, Jewish Gaming taught by Rabbi Alex and an elective on current Israel Advocacy taught by Michal Shmuel-Lewis.

Cofeld Corner

Like a long-distance runner rounding the halfway marker of a marathon, the volunteer and intern cataloguing project begun during the pandemic, and continued in fits and spurts, has now reached a significant milestone: Over 2000 objects are catalogued in Collector Systems the museum's cataloguing system. It allows for the cataloguing of all kinds of materials, from paintings to books, to architectural plans and drawings, posters, vinyl discs and all sorts of Judaica and historical materials. It is revolutionizing how we understand our collection, appreciating our range, seeing our concentrations and identifying our gaps.

This was not a small undertaking. After the loving care of Mortimer and Harriet Spiller, museum management had waned for almost a decade. A band of volunteers worked with me over several sessions to find and centralize all the materials into one place opposite the original TBZ board room. We hired Adam Rubin, an archivist-in-training, to translate the paper catalogue cards into a listing that continued over a two-year period while I worked in other roles outside the museum. This also continued while I was heavily immersed in creating the new iteration of the museum with a team of other professionals and Temple lay leaders. During every spare moment, I scanned hundreds of double-sided catalog cards and associated deed documentation, which could range from a single page to a voluminous file. This was a challenging job as the records were scattered and unorganized. Much of the former original order had been lost along with the file sleeves. Re-assembling it required time and dedication as much as detective work, history and museum skills!

While much of the work has been completed, still more remains. I have continued my volunteer cataloguing work to re-unite these records with newly created digitized images, correspondence, and other materials into enhanced records.

The next stage is the backlog of materials that were never on show in the museum, or items as yet uncatalogued. In addition, I am currently cataloguing archival materials that include digital materials I created for the new museum and the Blum Project. This will increase with the 175th Anniversary project. Indeed, the system, when used creatively, allows us to see patterns that enable us to plan future exhibitions and programs among other utilities, and to identify partners for joint exhibits and programing. In addition, in the future, you will be able to view many of the unique items of our collections through our website. Collector Systems was chosen for its intuitive and easy to use interface. This major and ongoing project is part of a commitment to provide access to our collection outside the walls of a physical exhibition in the same way we have enabled access with our Hein Online partnership which you can read about in last month's column or at this link: <https://cofeldmuseum.org/stories-and-essays/>.

Our thanks for the gift that made the catalog possible, given to honor the memory of Harriet and Mortimer Spiller by their children, Jill Spiller Underwood, Harley Spiller and Lora Spiller.

Team Teen 2025

Rabbi Brent and Cantor Susie are kicking off a new project for 2025 designed to engage middle and high school students (grades 8-12) in a variety of meaningful activities and experiences. Team Teen will organize fun off-site activities like bowling, game nights, an escape room adventure, and more. These events are opportunities for Jewish teens to have fun, bond with each other, and build lasting memories.

Team Teen is also designed to promote connection and community through TEENS TALK ABOUT discussions exploring topics that matter to teens today: Israel, Antisemitism, Community, and God. These conversations will encourage teens to think critically, express themselves, and develop a deeper understanding of themselves and the world around them.

Through these activities and conversations, Team Teen will provide a safe space for teens to learn about their Jewish heritage, traditions, and values.

See the Team Teen flyer below for information and registration. The off-site activities are $18/event. The TEENS TALK ABOUT sessions at Broder are $40 for all four.
